

Bill Collector In A Box — Fast Facts

Bill Collector In A Box is the most popular and powerful small-business collection management software available for small businesses. It complements traditional PC accounting software and is designed to be used by finance managers, accounts-receivable personnel, office managers and owner-operators of any business laden with past-due invoices.

Bill Collector In A Box centralizes the management of past-due accounts, from initial contact to resolution of the outstanding invoice. Designed by Ryon Gambill, a professional collection agent, the software makes the task of tracking and collecting past-due invoices less time-consuming and more productive by giving businesses tools and techniques not available in any comparable product:

- ★ Automatic printing of professional-quality legal demand letters that warn a debtor about impending legal action. The software also includes a wide variety of debt-collection letters that comply with state and federal laws.
- ★ Credit bureau reporting. Reporting a bad debt to a credit bureau is an effective way to convince debtors that they need to quickly settle their invoices. With one click, Bill Collector In A Box reports a bad debt to the major credit bureaus for up to 7 years.
- ★ SCAN (Shared Check Authorization Network) reporting. Gives significant control over a customer who has written an NSF check (non-sufficient funds) or other type of returned check, and is unwilling to pay the amount owed plus bank fees. SCAN is used by banking institutions and thousands of major retailers, including Home Depot, Nordstrom, Sears, Target and Wal-Mart, to screen out people who pass bad checks. At the checkout counter, when a person who has been reported to SCAN presents a check or tries to open a bank account at over 71,000 locations, he or she is handed a denial card and asked to contact SCAN. SCAN then directs the customer to the Bill Collector merchant that reported the bad check, who can collect the payment and, with one click in the software, remove the customer from the SCAN database.
- ★ Skip Tracing. If a debtor has left town with no forwarding address and has disconnected phones, one click instructs Bill Collector In A Box to engage a professional investigator who will track down the debtor. 25 basic skip traces and 1 advanced skip trace are included with the software.
- ★ Court information recording that provides an easy way to store details of litigation or small-claims actions.
- ★ Processing of credit card and ACH transactions (through PPI Inc.) to enable fast settlement of invoices.
- ★ Comprehensive report generation as well as importing and exporting of .csv files to and from popular accounting software programs.

Bill Collector In A Box runs on Windows PCs and complements popular accounting and personal-finance software such as Quicken®, QuickBooks®, Microsoft® Money and Microsoft® Accounting Professional. The software is available at Amazon.com, J&R Electronics, Micro Center, Office Depot, OfficeDepot.com, PCnation.com, and Shopblt.com. Unlimited technical support is included, along with an initial familiarization walk-through of the software.

Bill Collector In A Box is located in Indian Wells, California, and is owned and operated by Marauder Corporation. Marauder Corp. also operates Nationwide Capital Recovery, a licensed collection agency that specializes in the collection needs of small businesses. On the web at www.billcollectorinabox.com.